

The Foundational Values Revival (FVR)

The Goal of the Foundational Values Revival (FVR)

Our goal is to promote the basic biblical beliefs that are the bedrock on which stable families and societies depend. FVR is a coalition of individuals and organizations working together via State and Local Chapters to help teach and support the truth.

Truth isn't very popular today. Anyone who stands up for what is right risks being attacked. Young people are especially pressured to conform to the harmful lies of this world. They need and deserve all the encouragement and help we can give them. FVR is an efficient and effective way to reward students who defend the Foundational Values that our nation so desperately needs. It is part of Anvóy's comprehensive plan to reform corrupt institutions and redeem America.

How to Reach and Motivate Youth

We all know how difficult it is to overcome worldly distractions and capture the attention of young people today. That's why we created a new educational tool, called "Anvóy America," to get young people interested in the importance of Foundational Values. Anvóy America is an ongoing, realistic simulation that can engage the whole community. It is a parallel world with it's own working currency and stock market. However, Anvóy America stocks are not shares of companies. Each traded stock represents one of the 12 Foundational Values shown below.

Each of these 12 Foundational Values is not only a distinct concept, but also a “stock” that is traded on Anvóy America’s stock exchange, and pays a quarterly dividend. We give Students free shares of Values as a reward for their participation. Then, we buy back any shares that they want to sell. This process creates a market for shares and excitement about the concepts they represent.

All participants have their own money and trading accounts with which they can buy and sell Value stocks. The share prices can go up and down, just like they do in the real world. Students can sell their values and purchase real products. They can also spend or invest the dividends they receive from the shares they own. These benefits reward them for learning about Anvóy America’s critically important moral Values.

Building a Portfolio of Values

All participants, and especially students, are encouraged to understand and own shares of all 12 Values. We envision adults and students building their own separate portfolios together, and talking about the importance of the true meaning of the Values in the process. They can evaluate their portfolios regularly over time, which keeps the value concepts in the forefront of their minds. Students (up to the age of 25) receive quarterly dividends on the stocks they own. This income can increase the price of the Value stocks, just like dividends in the real world do.

There are 3 Main Roles in FVR:

1. Student - children ages 6 to 24
2. Sponsor
3. Crew or Group Leader

Giving Back as a FVR Sponsor

FVR is a unique opportunity to make a huge, positive impact on our culture by making biblical Values valuable. People are investing huge sums in risky stocks, currencies and other ventures, all of which are worldly and temporal. Biblical Values are timeless and pay much greater dividends both in this life and the next.

We are blessed when we build our lives on the truth. FVR is our chance to give some of these blessings back to our loved ones and communities. Truth is under attack, but by putting some of our money where our real treasure is, we can make a statement that the world simply cannot ignore. Our goal is to spend about $150 per year per student to fund dividends for Foundational Values. This would be only 1% of the $15,000 per student the government currently spends on education annually.

All of the funds Sponsors donate are used to pay dividends to students who own Value stocks. This small dividend has incredible power. It has the ability to create a huge market for Values stocks that can produce tremendous funding for our cause. It can draw millions of students to learn about how the truth pays dividends in real life. Sponsors will even have the option to select the Values to which they want their dividends assigned. This way, if there is a Value that they are not interested in supporting, they can still support the other Values.

In order to further stretch dividend funds, only students up to age 25 receive them. They are also limited to a maximum of $600 of dividends per year per student. There is no limit to the gains Students may make from selling stocks. Students are encouraged to spend their gains with community businesses and ministries in order to aid the local economy.

Multiplying Your Impact

The share price of Values you hold within this educational simulation can go up or down. If they increase, they may become worth even more than the fees you paid. If you donate shares to a nonprofit organization, you may be able to receive a tax-deductible benefit for the greater amount. If you give shares to Students, they can sell them at a higher price and spend the proceeds to start building their lives on a solid foundation.

What could these Values be worth someday?

Bitcoin went from 19 cents to $60,000

Can Anvóy Values go from 0.1 cents to $1?

That kind of growth could turn a gift of $1,000 into a million dollars!

Give to the Most Merited Organizations

We want to motivate local nonprofits to participate in FVR. We want our members to donate their stocks and funds to the most deserving organizations. We will track 2 metrics in order to help direct funds to where they can do the most good. We will track the amount of donations an organization receives via FVR and the quantity of points it earns. The organization that has received the least amount of donations per point will be listed at the top of the “most-merited list.” This process will help keep organizations accountable and align our efforts for greater impact.

Sharing Wisdom with Youth as a Crew Leader

Crew Leaders are parents, teachers or mentors who invite students to participate in FVR. They pay a small monthly fee which helps fund the Anvóy America platform. In return they get many tools that help them engage their students. They get a monthly guide that helps explain the Foundational Value of that month to their students. The students also receive free shares of values by becoming part of a Crew or group. Students earn points for actions taken such as inviting others to join or sharing info about Foundational Values. The point totals determine how many free shares each student earns. Students can keep the shares in their account, or sell them on the stock exchange.

Raising Funds for Local Chapters

To renew America, many talented people will need to identify problems and solve them. We believe that this work is best done at the state and local level. FVR generates funds to make this work possible by selling new shares of stock. If the market for Foundational Values catches on, it has the potential to produce a great deal of funding, by redirecting it from the world and back to God’s Kingdom. These funds will be allocated where they can do the most good.

Local and State chapters will receive funding in proportion to the amount of work that they accomplish. The platform provides automatic, local, open-book accounting so that everyone can participate and fund the defense of biblical values with confidence.

Conclusion

Just as no building can stand without a firm foundation, no society can survive without Foundational Values. Confusion and corruption grow as America abandons the biblical principles on which it was built. The world is getting darker in spite of our efforts to shine the Light of Truth. The good news is with God’s help we can restore our nation to the Biblical Values it so desperately needs. By becoming a Sponsor you make this unique, fun and exciting FVR adventure possible!

The current cultural crisis is unprecedented and requires an unprecedented response like Anvóy. We urge you to join us and help leave a better world for future generations.
