Before committing any funds, please confirm that you understand and agree with the purpose of Anvóy and the various products it is developing.

Anvóy is an Educational Lab

Our goal is to promote Foundational Values via an engaging learning experience and by developing alternative institutions that give people better choices. Anvóy's Value Stocks and Exchange may someday become real-world solutions, but until then they are experimental and intended to be used for educational purposes only.

Anvóy Asset Accounts are Experimental

Anvóy is a software platform that provides valuable, hands-on experiences that Students probably wouldn't get otherwise. Participants have their own simulated accounts with which they can buy and sell shares of Values, make purchases, donations, etc. Nevertheless, members acknowledge that these accounts (technically speaking) aren't theirs. All funds added to the virtual nation of Anvóy at this early stage are either an expense, gift or donation (not a real investment).

Trust and Accountability

Just because Anvóy is experimental doesn't mean it is less accurate or honorable. Anvóy's real-time, open book accounting provides more transparency than a real bank (in our opinion). You can see where the money goes by reviewing online reports that are updated daily. Knowing that funds are being well spent allows us to participate with confidence. Our mutual success depends on trust. We intend to exceed your expectations in everything we do.

Anvóy Rewards Performance

To restore our nation to solid Foundational Values, we aim to motivate a large coalition of people and groups to work together. Anvóy uses a portion of funds received to reward students, businesses and ministries that show good results toward this goal. You can sell shares of Values on Anvóy's Stock Exchange and either donate proceeds to charity or use them to purchase products from businesses. These transactions benefit everyone. Anvóy honors requests to redirect funds in good faith, even though it is not legally obligated to do so.

How Stock Gains are Used

We believe that our stock market of Values may someday be a preferred way to "pass one's values on" to the next generation. But we also need to understand that Anvóy has little control over the share price of the Values. They will always be worth what someone is willing to pay for them at the time they are offered for sale.

Sellers share gains (if any) with the Mission Fund pool. They will be able to direct up to 50% of gains themselves either by using their account to make purchases and donations, or by withdrawing the funds from Anvóy. Sellers agree to use all gains for God-honoring purposes.

Gains added to the Mission Fund will be used to promote Foundational Values. They will be allocated either by local or state Anvóy Shipping Companies. Therefore anyone who buys Value stocks can know that their funds are going to support a good cause. This way, even if the Values end up being worth less, there is no real loss.

The maximum gain that a member can receive is 50% of 200% which is 100%. To receive more gain, the stock needs to be sold and repurchased. Anvóy may require that stock with gains greater than 200% be sold in order to harvest those gains and help control demand for stock. All these rules are subject to change as needed to benefit all.
